With the arrest yesterday of the old Reichler, 27 years of age, one of the South Westlake women, police believe they took an important step toward the round-up of an extensive booting ring.

Taken in custody first on a booting charge, Reichler later was accused of violation of the "White Slave" possession and transportation laws following the accidental discovery of eight pints of seemingly pure liquor cached in a secret compartment of his automobile. A search of the man's pockets then revealed a notebook containing names of prominent men listed in the "Customer Notebooks."

Reicher was apprehended by motorcycle officers on Pacific avenue near Avenue 14. He was with exceeding speed and was "stepping on it" in order to escape in time for his appearance. During a desperate evasion of the car, one of the officers, according to the police report, accidentally touched Reicher's spring with his foot, causing the compartment under the seat to open, and disclosing the contents.

Confronted with this, Reicher retracted his original statement and declared a stranger man had asked him to deliver the car to a man dressed in a military uniform. He promised he would be paid $500,000 at the destination. He maintained innocence of any knowledge of the contents of the car.

It was advanced at the time of the hearing between the board and the committee of farmers' grain-raising organizations at the port, and it was set out that the grain-raising operation is a long-time project of the establishment of the new Federal Reserve Bank and development of the new corporation.

The new corporation is organized on co-operative basis and will be eligible for loans under the new Farm Relief Act. The corporation is to serve as a medium between the board and the farmers co-operatives.

CORONADO, July 26. (Exclusive)—Rear-Admiral Thomas Pickett Magruder is here to assume command of the United States Fleet Base force at San Pedro. His new duty rounds out forty-four years of active service, of which twenty-three have been on blue water, facing battle and the breeze.

PARIS, July 26. (AP)—Premier Poincare, suffering serious ill health and faced with the necessity for an operation, tonight informed his Cabinet of his desire to be relieved of his duties as head of the government.

They decided to ask him to remain despite his incapacity and sent a telegram to the Minister of War, Briand, and the Minister of Justice, Barthou, to his bedside to inform them of his resignation.

SNOOK DEFENSE FACES BATTLE

Prosecution Plans to Fight
Drugging Plea to Limit

Dope Question Looms Large
in Coed Death Trial

Jury Completion Delayed by Numerous Challenges

COLUMBUS (O.) July 20. (Exclusive)—The State of Ohio, smarting under the snook murder trial defense that the veterinary professor was so drugged by his co-accused, Thora Hix, that he did not know what he was doing when he killed her, will attack that line of defense to the limit, it was made plain today.

The drug question, introduced by his attorneys yesterday in their minute questioning of prospective jurors, continued today to loom as the most important feature of the three-point defense of the middle-aged Dr. James H. Snook, the other angles of which will be emotional intensity and self-defense.

AIM OF DEFENSE
Snook's attorneys will try to show that he was fed drugs in sandwiches prepared for him by the 24-year-old girl he killed when his affair with her became too serious. But the "drugs" the prosecution believes will resolve themselves simply into love potions.

Dr. Snook is known as a dabbler in sciences. He is said to have had a secret library of pharmacological books which he loaned to the student of medicine who was his mistress today.

When the curtains are snatched back next week for the taking of testimony in the most stirring court drama in Ohio legal history, another and older drama will keep the spotlight for a time. Alvin Karpis, 33-year-old mother of the slayer, arrived here today from her home on a farm in Indiana, O.

JURY INCOMPLETE
With the defense exerting its peremptory challenges to reduce the number of women on the tentative jury to the minimum, hope of completing the jury today vanished, as the hour of adjournment to Monday approached.

Mrs. Helen Marple Snook, the accused professor's loyal wife, broke her silence today to declare her ignorance of the three-year intimacy between her husband and the young student. She declared she never had any thought of divorcing him and has none now.

abandoned the mission believed that they were being called to church, others believed that as much noise would not be without a reason and refused to leave until they learned the reason. To satisfy the crowd he had drummed up, Galt-bellied a ten-gallon drum of ice and served it to the natives.

The government steamer Acadia bound for the west coast of Hudson Bay has been directed to call here and take Galt, Parker Cramer and Robert Wood to Churchill. The boat was due today but still is some 200 miles south of here, proceeding northward along the Labrador coast.

Since the "Unita" Bowler drifted to use as a sail and sank on July 13, the flyers have been the enforced guests of the three radio operators who comprise the personnel of Base A at the Hudson Bay expedition of the Canadian government.

five)—Allentown is the latest city to contemplate an endurance refueling flight but with fresh variations. The Milwaukee chapter of the National Aeronautic Association is discussing plans to equip a Piquet, president of the Motion Picture and Whitney motor and also with a hospital cot, typewriter, radio, telephone and shower bath. A professional pilot, business man pilot, business man and secretary would be included in the personnel. The idea is to transact business while in flight.

FLIGHT AROUND
COUNTRY PLANNED
SPOKANE, July 20. (AP)—Lieut. "Nick" Mamer, head of the Mamer Air Transport, Inc., and government forest guard pilot, announced today he will attempt a nonstop round trip endurance refueling flight around the United States, taking another refueling plane with him.

The tentative itinerary provides that Mamer will fly from Falls Field at Spokane to St. Paul, thence to Cleveland, New York, Washington, Cleveland again, then Omaha, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Portland and back to Spokane. The flight will be continued once the airport in an attempt to break whatever endurance record stands at that time.

QUICK REFUELING
PERFORMED AT HOUSTON
HOUSTON (Tex.) July 20. (AP)—A remarkably quick refueling was performed here this afternoon in connection with the flight of the Bullion Dollar City, Houston endurance ship, which had then been up 230 hours.

The "flying milk wagon" piloted by Lieut. Earl Spencer, Texas National Guard, took off and delivered fifty gallons within thirteen minutes. Contact was made at the unusually low altitude of 300 feet directly over the Houston airport, to which it landed.

NORTHWEST HAS RECORD HEAT WAVE

Mark in Minnesota and the Two Dakotas

ST. PAUL, July 20. (AP)—Heat records for the season fell by the wayside today as the Northwest was gripped in a sweltering wave which swept throughout Minnesota and North and South Dakota, and temperatures climbed past the century mark.

Blumack, N. D., was apparently the hottest point in the Northwest, the thermometer reaching 106 there between 2 and 3 p.m. as citizens brought over electric fans in the city and dealers sent a rush order for more.

Jameson, N. D., had 104 deg. F. and 103 deg. F. at mid-afternoon. The temperature reached between 100 and 103 there.

The central part of Minnesota was the hottest in the state, with temperature of 100 reported at Clarissa at 3 p.m., and the same at Brainerd.

In the Twin Cities, 97, the highest mark of the season, was reached.

SPECIAL CLASSES PRAISED

Report to Gov. Young Emphasizes Value of Training
Given Exceptional Pupils in Pasadena

SACRAMENTO, July 20. (Exclusive)—High praise of the special classes maintained in the Pasadena schools to develop the creative abilities of mentally advanced or exceptionally imaginative children is contained in the report of Zella M. Ryan, chief of the State Bureau of Mental Hygiene, filed today with Gov. Young.

Rather than advance the superior children by rapid promotions, Miss Ryan explains, the Pasadena school officials formed classes in which the students receive not only the education of their grades but also are trained in foreign languages, dramatics and creative art.

WORK BROADENED
In the superior child classes, the bright students, who often develop tendencies toward social complexes when kept among their age groups, are given work of a broadened scope, with emphasis upon creative expression.

Miss Ryan included in her report poems written by superior class students on 7, 9 and 10 years of age, remarking: "When we think that these ideas are spontaneous expressions from happy children and that we can obtain almost equally beautiful ideas from practically all children, should we not begin to feel our responsibility for

REFUELING TRIP BENEFITS SEEN

Carrying of Greater Cargoes
Predicted by Experts

Planes Could Take on More
Gasoline En Route

Confidence Also Built Up in Engine Endurance

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—As the St. Louis Robin soars on beyond the 320-hour mark after ascending the much-broken refueling endurance record and the man in the street wonders what all the flying is about, Maj. Clarence M. Young, aeronautics director of the Department of Commerce, foresees practical application of the knowledge gained in the long flights.

The practical application of refueling in flight having been proved beyond doubt, he holds, it remains to be applied to commercial aviation.

CARRY MORE CARGO
"Instead of taking on a heavy load of gasoline at the start, a plane could take part of its gasoline, be refueled several times en route, and save much weight for pay load."

Gasoline weighing about 5400 pounds might be required for a transcontinental trip. Why not take 600 pounds of gasoline, refuel at 4000, 4000 and carry 1800 pounds more of cargo?

WEAK POINTS SOUGHT
With refueling successfully demonstrated, the ability of American engines to stand up under terrific grinds proved, and the endurance of men and materials shown, the worth of endurance flights seems now to settle down to tests by manufacturers to determine the worth of their engines, to find any weak points, and to test the endurance of materials.

True, such tests might be conducted on the test block on the ground, but tests in the air under actual operating conditions test far more than could be learned on the block.

"The flight may do much," Young feels, "to build confidence in aviation and remove any apprehensions regarding possible engine failures."

Before the Army's Question Mark took the air last January, the refueling endurance record was thirty-two hours and twenty minutes. The record was set by the Army's Question Mark, which was in flight for 32 hours and 20 minutes.

OIL NEED SHOWN
When the Question Mark stayed aloft 181 hours the world was amazed at the endurance of the five men and which had temperatures above the rocker arms and push rods of the engines, which forced the end of the flight, showed better lubrication of these parts was needed in long endurance flights.

Then Kelly and Robbins in the Part Worth gained the plaudits of the world by remaining aloft for 36 hours and 19 minutes. Applying the lesson of the Question Mark, their engine was properly greased in flight and was little the worse for wear at the end of the long flight.

Two other planes pushed the mark up to 174 and to 246 hours, and now the Robin sails on after doubling the Question Mark's record with 320 hours and a 500-hour flight calmly discussed.

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—President Hoover, with a party of Cabinet officials and army officers left this afternoon for his fishing camp on the Rapidan River in the Virginia Blue Ridge Mountains to spend the week-end.

While there the president will hold a series of conferences with high army officials concerning the proposed survey of the army equipment to be conducted with a view to effecting economies.

The president is accompanied by Secretary Good, Maj.-Gen. Sumner, chief of the army staff, and Assistant Secretaries Hurley and Davidson of the War Department.

SUGAR TARIFF WILL BE AIRD

Smoot Announces Hearings

West Wins Victory Over East
on Manganese Rate

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—The controversy over the increase in the sugar tariff gathered momentum today as Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee announced hearings would be opened next week to permit discussion of the sliding scale he is preparing as a substitute for the House rate.

The Utah Senator expressed confidence of meeting some of the criticism of his proposed sliding scale when it is actually discussed. He said there were some sugar producers who feared his substitute would void the House action, but explained that he was adjusting a scale to meet market conditions. If the market went skyrocketing at any time "it couldn't be blamed on the sugar tariff," he added.

RATE BOOST REMAINS
The decision of the House to boost the tariff rate to 5 cents a pound and 2.44 cents for Cuba created one of the major points of dispute on the tariff issue. The Utah Senator's statement today was regarded by some as evidence of assurance that the House rate would not be materially affected by his substitute.

Meanwhile, the Republicans of the Finance Committee moved ahead today in the revision of the House rate. Night sessions were proposed tonight by Senator Smoot and by Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader. European sugar producers were being formed for the purpose of controlling the sugar market, it was estimated.

Dr. Manuel Villalón, a member of the Cuban House of Representatives, who is visiting here, declared at the Cuban consulate that such a report was unfounded.

minds of all was to get it out as quickly as possible. Today with the fire under control the men interested in the welfare of the Santa Clara Valley are looking to the future as a whole are looking to the future as a whole are looking to the future as a whole.

Hopper Canyon and Pira Canyon are two large tributaries of the Santa Clara River. When they are covered with brush and grass, they hold the rainfall, letting it drain slowly into the creeks, and hence into the river, but when they are bare of vegetation, there is nothing left to hold the water. It pours into the creeks, filling them full from bank to bank and draining the water into the Santa Clara. The erosion of soil is great and the deltas are built up.

Just what the effect of the present fire will be cannot actually be known until winter. The situation is said to be grave for the Santa Clara River Valley is much as the flood of March 12, 1923 left it. Should winter rains be heavy it is thought likely that the Santa Clara will swell out of its banks and endanger property.

It actually no damage is done by the rain, there will be a tremendous amount of water lost and water is needed gravely in this country, according to Senator Walter Duvall.

An indication of how the streams are affected by fire in the canyon that border them may be seen by a recent record made by the Pira Creek. Four years ago a disastrous fire gutted the canyon. Today the flow is only fifteen inches, the lowest in thirty years. Last winter when the rains came, the creek flowed full, but little water was held and as a consequence little drains in from time to time as it would if vegetation covered the canyon. The fire burned over nearly 8000 acres of watershed, that held water, black and bare.

WASHINGTON FIRE CAUSING PERIL

SPOKANE (Wash.) July 20. (AP)—Fire fighters tried today to halt a farm and forest fire which had burned over 1000 acres near Davenport, Wash., not far from here. With a stiff head wind, the blaze cracked along some brush timber and crops, sometimes leaping a quarter of a mile and often jumping over the fire fighters. The whole country was dry, and the wheat farms and a sawmill were menaced.

GRAIN MARKET UNIT PLANNED

relations of farmers' co-operatives are concerned, the present set-up of the grain market will be changed. It will not change the separate identity of the various members, as the wheat pool, or grain associations or farm bureau or farmers' elevator. But it contemplates consolidated action on marketing.

The plan merely proposes a co-operative organization which will be effective in sales of grain. For one thing, it will give farmers' elevators the advantage of an organization which will be able to touch all the markets of the world. As to control of surplus grain on the market, Mr. Williams said the question of surplus had not been discussed, but that the proposed plan would have some influence on this question. He remarked that it might develop ways and methods by which the production of surplus might be "checked at the source."

CONFERENCE IN SECRET
The conference, which will be continued tomorrow, was behind closed doors. Senator Brookhart of Iowa appeared in the Louis XVI Room before it was called to order. Chairman Leage in opening the session said the co-operative officials had been invited on the understanding that the meetings would be strictly executive and that none of the outside public would be present. The Senator withdrew, with others, saying he had no intention of intruding but had heard the sessions were to be open.

The conference was attended by all members of the Farm Board, excepting Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. Other members beside Mr. Leage and Mr. Williams are: James C. Stone, C. C. Tanager, R. Deham, William F. Schilling and Charles M. Wilson.

OFFICIALS PRESENT
Among the fifty officials of farmers' grain associations, pools, elevator associations, and co-operatives were:

Sam Thompson, Chicago, president American Farm Bureau Federation; Louis J. Taber, master National Grange, Columbus, O.; G. E. Huff, president Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Union, Lincoln, Kan.; Leroy Melton, president of the Farmers' Equity Union, Greenville, Ill.; T. J. Larson, secretary Montana Elevator Association; T. E. Bergman, president Wheat Growers Association, Amarillo, Tex.; J. J. Knight and Edward Travis, Equity Union Grain Company, Kansas City; John May, secretary Oklahoma Wheat Growers Association; George W. Johnson, president Minnesota Wheat Growers Association; William H. Settle, manager Central States Wheat Growers Association, Minneapolis; J. F. Larson, secretary Farmers' Grain Dealers Association of Iowa; M. W. Thacher, Farmers' Union Terminal Association, St. Paul; Carl Martin and L. E. Cramer, Michigan Elevator Exchange, Lansing, Mich.

Every State in the great Midwest wheat belt was said to be represented.

GAS USED TO FIGHT INSANITY

U. C. Tests With Carbon Dioxide Fumes Help
Victims of Dementia Praecox Recover Faculties

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20. (Exclusive)—Certain cases of dementia praecox, a type of insanity, can be cured temporarily by treating a patient with carbon dioxide gas, it has been found by University of California physicians.

Experiments confirming discovery by eastern physicians were conducted recently by Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, professor of pharmacology of the university medical school. Eight trials of the treatment were tried on five cases of dementia praecox, and in all but one trial there was a striking return of intelligence which enabled the patient to answer questions rationally or to show recognition of his surroundings for a period of ten or fifteen minutes.

As a probable explanation of this favorable effect, Dr. Leake states that under certain conditions the patient's arterial blood becomes highly saturated with oxygen, which may be expected to leave the blood more readily than it does normally, when in contact with carbon dioxide. This fact, in connection with the greatly increased blood pressure during and immediately after the carbon dioxide inhalation suggests that improvement in the oxygen supply to the brain may be an important factor in the response, according to Dr. Leake.

Assistant Dr. Leake in the experiments was Dr. Mary E. Botsford of the medical school and Dr. Arthur E. Gudel of Haverly Hall.

REFUNDS CUT HOPES RISING

Joint Committee on Taxation
Sets Forth Prospect

Settlements Dating Back to
Before 1922 Recited

Provisions of Law Altered
Following That Year

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Hope that settlement of cases arising before 1923 will bring a sharp decrease in the annual appropriations necessary for tax refunds was held out today in a joint congressional committee on internal revenue taxation.

Pointing to an average rate of settlement of $15,335,370 a month for the seven months between June 7 and December 31, 1929, the committee said that 43 per cent of these refunds was due to provisions of law which became operative since 1922. Tax-refund claims totaling $1,000,000,000 still are on file with the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Eighty-nine per cent of the refunds and credits reported to the committee, which passed on these in cases of $750,000 or more for the year preceding 1922, and it pointed to this as offering the "hope that with the final settlement of excess profits taxes, the annual amount required for the payment of taxes retroactively collected will be very substantially reduced."

PROVISIONS IN QUESTION
The three provisions which the committee said accounted for 43 per cent of the refunds were taxes on investment, special assessments and amortization. These have not been in force since 1921.

The report says "the most troublesome provision in our present revenue act are those necessitating the valuation of water; the consolidation of returns for affiliated companies; the determination of depreciation, obsolescence and depletion; the valuation of inventories, and valuations for determining gain and loss."

"It is evident," it continues, "that the future simplification of the income-tax law must of necessity rest largely on a more simple and definite method of determining value, gains and other questions of judgment."

The report reviews at length numerous settlements, including the $17,752,000 United States refund, the $17,752,000 United States refund, and the $1,567,000 Aluminum Company of America settlement.

OTHERS AFFECTED
L. K. Parker, chief of the bureau of investigation of the committee, said the method of determining the amount of invested capital which was involved in the United States Steel case was not only affected by the taxes of that company for the years 1918 to 1920, but will arise in other important cases for the tax years involving income capital refund.

He said the two general laws involved in the United States Steel refund were income adjustments and invested capital adjustments. Regarding the income adjustments, he reported he found the taxpayers owed $8,822,000, and that the government's total concession was $4,421,000.

The Aluminum Company of America case involved the consolidated excess profits tax upon the various subsidiaries of the concern in 1917. As a result of an extensive investigation of the case, certificates of overpayment totaling $1,287,000 were granted to the aluminum company and five of its subsidiaries.

President Claims Power to Delay Cruiser Work
Controversy Same That Faced Coolidge Last Year

WASHINGTON, July 26. (AP)—The possibility of a controversy between President Hoover and Congress over the time clause in the new construction act similar to the dispute between Calvin Coolidge and the last Congress on the same question was foreseen today in Washington. The White House disclosed that Mr. Hoover feels the act gives him authority to delay construction on the fifteen cruisers until June 30, 1931, and shortly thereafter Chairman Hale of the Senate Naval Committee, said at his home in Maine that the Chief Executive is "entirely in error" in this conclusion.

ROYAL FAMILY REPORTED SPLIT

Rumor Has Crown Prince of Italy Disaffected

Rift With King Over Fascist Policy Discussed

Heir Said to Think Dynasty Has Been Compromised

VENICE, July 26. (Exclusive)—In the entourage of the royal house of Italy there are persistent reports of a conflict between King Victor Emmanuel, who is said to disapprove of his father's attitude toward the Fascist regime, holding that the King has given up important prerogatives and sovereign powers, thus compromising the dynasty. The prince, it is reported, declares that the present position of the King is untenable.

At the same time Prince Umberto is assisting the Prince of Wales in his Italian activity, traveling constantly up and down the peninsula and participating in fêtes and ceremonies to make evident his position as heir to the throne. Prince Umberto, Duke of Apulia, who is popular with the Fascists, the Fascist press gives great publicity to every movement he makes. The recent nomination of the Duke of Apulia as colonel in the Trieste artillery regiment is also said to be significant.

Besides desiring to make the Duke well known and popular in the big cities of Italy, Premier Mussolini is appointing him as colonel also desired to show he had chosen a prince of the royal house to hold the frontier city against Jugoslavia, according to court gossip reports reaching here.

The Duke of Apulia is next in line to the throne after Prince Umberto. A recent statute governing the grand Fascist council gives the body extensive powers in determining succession in the event of a crisis between the royal house and the Fascist party.

same reason the Atlantic Coast also is well secured against any possible invasion. United States naval interests already are well-oriented in the Pacific, in that a strong base at Hawaii is imperative and that we maintain most of our fleet on this coast and train our fleet in these waters. I can't say too much for the Navy's development of aviation in the fleet, for which Admiral Moffett deserves great praise. Aircraft will continue more and more to be an element of naval strength.

WORLD AFFAIRS STUDIED

"I am no naval expert, but I have an ordinary amount of common sense and that is used in determining our international policies. Since November, 1927, I have been busy from a naval point of view, but mainly I have been very busy man, reading and learning. I could about the affairs of my country with the rest of the world."

Admiral Magruder is 61 years of age, and a man of big medium stature, yet the steel that flashes in his gray eyes, his shock of reddish hair, his broad, clear-cut face, give him the air of a man in his prime.

He began his career with the navy of the old navy of wood and sail, in 1888, and will retire at the close of his new duty, November 28, 1931, with America's fleet as a machine of steel and electricity.

GUEST OF RELATIVE

Magruder is visiting here for a few days with his brother-in-law, Rear-Admiral DeWitt Coffman, retired, and with his daughter, the wife of Commander Stuart O. Coffman, of the battle fleet destroyer squadron. He will go to Mare Island next week, and on August 1, hold his first command of the United States fleet at Mare Island.

He will return to Los Angeles Harbor on August 31 with the fleet, from which he will direct the activities of the fleet of auxiliary ships, tankers, tugs, ammunition ships, supply ships, repair ships, hospital ships and transports—that keep the United States fleet at fighting efficiency.

"I am mighty grateful to President Hoover and the Secretary of the Navy for letting me go back to the sea, which has been all my life," he said. "I was happy when I learned I was returning to California. I had my first duty as an officer on the coast in 1888, aboard the old ship Albatross, and I will be glad to close the circle on the Pacific."

TENNY AWAITS BOARD ACTION

Farm Body Studies Entire Viticultural Status

Wires Back to Learn What Growers Are Doing

Campaign Manager Says They Want to See Money

FRESNO, July 26.—Action by the United States Farm Board on the program for rehabilitation of the raisin industry of the Federal Grape Stabilization Corporation through loan of government funds is to investigate the entire viticultural situation.

This was the gist of a message received here today from President Lloyd Tenny of the corporation, now in Washington to present the raisin program to President Hoover's board. The news was the first to be received from Tenny since he went before the board Tuesday.

His wire said:

TENNY'S WIRE

"Have been before the board several times, finding the members very sympathetic toward our problem but desiring to see the situation further. C. O. Teague, a board member, is doing everything possible to help our cause. I am confident that the board will give us a definite answer for several days yet. Please wire me what is being done in the valley and the general feeling of the growers."

D. R. Ewing, chief of the campaign in the valley for purchase of the raisin crop by the Stabilization Corporation, wired Tenny that while the situation is "extremely favorable," the uncertainty of the financing plan adds to the seriousness of the situation. His wire said:

EWING'S REPLY

"The uncertainty of proper financing of the Stabilization Corporation adds to the seriousness of the desperate situation here. Sentiment is intensely favorable to the plan if financed or conservative to the plan if financed by the government. If sufficient control is obtained."

"Losses of the past have made growers helpless to finance themselves. Local buyers have been heavily in attempting to carry the situation that we can expect no assistance from them without some definite commitments."

ACTION PROMISED

"The Farm Relief Bill and the stabilization plan are ideal for our situation. If it is possible to finance the plan, sufficient tonnage can be obtained within ten days after definite commitment in a constructive way is obtained from the Farm Board."

"The campaign has been educational and growers understand the difference between this plan and the plan of the past. Growers are now used through which their losses have been sustained."

"To preserve this industry without the operation of the immediate relief plan, it is imperative to prevent the complete destruction of production in the San Joaquin Valley. Growers are now using the plan of the world financial assistance must be obtained. We can not make any progress during this tense period of suspense."

SACHEM AT HUNDREDTH MILESTONE

Voorhis Will Cut Cake With 100 Candies on It at Celebration Today

NEW YORK, July 26. (Exclusive)—Grand Sachem John R. Voorhis hopes it will rain tomorrow. He has been celebrating his 100th birthday for two days now and he is a bit tired and maybe a mile bored with all the handshaking and back slapping that comes to a man in public life on the eve of his first century.

He is looking forward a bit dubiously to the morrow for that is the big day when he will have to cut a cake with 100 candles and shake hands with everyone who can crowd into his reception room on the eighteenth floor of the Municipal Building.

Voorhis is president of the Board of Education and has been holding that and similar office for fifty-six years. He has made a lot of friends and if it does not rain tomorrow and keep some of them away he is going to be a tired old man from Tanqueray Hall before the festivities end.

City and State officials and numerous delegations are to be guests for this will be the first "century birthday cake" ever to be cut in the Municipal Building. Mr. Voorhis turned in early tonight, for his friends kept him up until midnight last night making speeches and eating banquet food.

"I have been a lucky fellow," is the way he expressed it today, "and I am not worrying about what may happen in the future. I did not set out to live to be 100 years or any other age. All I ever aimed to do was to earn a living, save a little, if possible, and to mind my own business. I was born free and lived free and hope to die free."

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan wedged his body through the opening. Cautiously he crawled along. The floor ended in a sudden drop. He saw a tiny patch of sky above him and as the moon topped the shaft's opening, it let a flood of soft, silvery light shimmer on a pool of water far beneath him. Tarzan had come upon an ancient well. Across this was an opening in the opposite wall.

Quickly returning to the wall he had demolished he replaced its stone. Easily leaping the fifteen feet across the well, a moment later he was running along a narrow tunnel. Then down a flight of stairs. Here he found himself in a dim room piled high with metal ingots. But for their enormous number he would have been positive that they were gold.

Now the way ran straight as a war spear. If he but knew the direction it was leading him! With increasing hopes he forged ahead. More steps now led upward. Up this winding spiral path Tarzan sped. At the end he came out upon the top of a huge granite boulder. Into the fresh night air, beyond the outer walls. A mile away lay the ruined city of Opar.

The ancient pile of crumbling grandeur in the distance was bathed in the soft light of the equatorial moon. "Opar," he mused. "Opar, enchanted city of a forgotten past! City of horrors and death, of beauty and beasts, but city of fabulous riches!" Then he dropped his eyes to the ingot he had brought away with him. He saw that it was of virgin gold!

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT COMPANY

Of the properties controlled by the United Gas Improvement Company, a major portion are located near the Atlantic seaboard, although interests are held in other sections. Large investments are held in affiliated or independent companies. Through a wholly owned subsidiary it operates the Philadelphia Gas Works under

Stockholders already have received dividends for the first half of the year, which should amount to approximately $2,500,000, or more on the basis of Dr. Friday's estimate for the full year. This is a record for the company, and it is hardly likely that all of it has yet been re-employed. In fact, the receipts given some of the new security issues offered by investment houses in the last few weeks indicate that investors are ready and willing to reinvest when something strikes their fancy. There is no shortage of ready capital.

ATTITUDE CHANGES

What is taking place is a tendency to give more deliberation to commitments on the part of investors and speculators. Those who have been active in the market for the last few years and have ridden on the crest of the wave without running into many difficulties are now disposed to inquire more thoroughly into securities. Responsibility has come with new wealth, and also an increasing respect for the public.

Even though prices may be high it is noticed that buyers are not timid about going into the stocks like General Electric, United States Steel and American Telephone. The latter is particularly noticeable in showing satisfactory earnings and dividends.

When third-quarter earnings are published and more information on the status of corporate profits in the last few months of the year is known, probably the public will enter more boldly into the market. Dr. Friday's estimate, however, may be regarded as a valuable hint on the probable trend.

PEAK IN PROFITS EXPECTED

Economist Estimates $9,500,000,000 This Year for All Corporations; Dividends Also Charted

BY KARL E. CROWE

Although the speculative impulse has apparently cooled several degrees it is not because of any prospect for declining earnings this year by American corporations. A nationally known economist, Dr. David Friday, who is advisor to a number of large investment trusts, offers assurance on this point in a recent article in which he estimates that profits and dividend payments of American corporations will reach a new high this year.

Dr. Friday qualifies his prophecy, however, by the clause, "If business holds up to the levels of 1928 for the remaining five months of the year. Evidently he leans to the belief that the level will be maintained, for he goes at length into an analysis of a consolidated income account, which he sets up for all corporations in 1929.

TOTAL BULK LARGE

His estimates that net earnings available for dividends and surplus will be more than $9,500,000,000. Of this amount, he states that corporations will pay between $7,000,000,000 and $7,500,000,000 in dividends to stockholders. The remainder of $2,000,000,000 to $2,500,000,000 will be reinvested for corporate purposes.

These figures, Dr. Friday points out, show where this country is getting the money with which to speculate and invest. Distributions to stockholders have multiplied since 1922, according to his estimates, and the annual average increase in dividends in the seven years has been more than 10 per cent.

Stockholders already have received dividends for the first half of the year, which should amount to approximately $2,500,000, or more on the basis of Dr. Friday's estimate for the full year. This is a record for the company, and it is hardly likely that all of it has yet been re-employed. In fact, the receipts given some of the new security issues offered by investment houses in the last few weeks indicate that investors are ready and willing to reinvest when something strikes their fancy. There is no shortage of ready capital.

Week-end Selling and Credit Pinch Bring Drop

Declines Generally Light on Moderately Turnover

Buying of Bethlehem Steel Features Sessions

NEW YORK, July 26. (AP)—The stock market turned sympathetically downward today, as week-end liquidation was augmented by unusualness over credit and market bear pressure.

The market opened fairly strong, under the stimulus of the Bethlehem Steel dividend action and an unusually favorable quota of earnings statements, but was soon swamped with selling orders. Declines were largely moderate, however, and the day's turnover barely exceeded $500,000,000.

Call money held at 9 per cent all day, but a sharp firming of time money rates, the shorter maturities leading at 8 1/2 per cent, was a cheerless development. Bankers said that the August 1 credit requirements would probably not be as severe.

Runners, with no apparent foundation, that the Federal Reserve would issue another credit warning, was rather upsetting to the more excitable elements of speculative circles, since the upturn of $60,000,000 in brokers' loans and the securing of funds seemed to lead to a possibility. Wall Street generally, however, was inclined to attribute this talk to bearish sources, and was disposed to believe that the Federal Reserve could ill afford to put further brakes on credit at a time when the crops are beginning to move.

BETHLEHEM GAINS

Bearish operations were aided in the afternoon by a writ down on the grain market, but the day's business was remained largely favorable, including several more good earnings reports. The week-end recovery again seemed to lead to a possibility of industrial activity for this time of year, and stated that preparations are being made for extraordinary active autumn trading.

Bethlehem Steel heavily bought in response to the raising of the annual dividend rate to $8 from $4, and its excellent account on the grain market. The stock went up more than 5 points to a record price of 124 3/4 in a turnover of more than 150,000 shares. United States Steel, the director of which will meet for the quarterly report and dividend action on Tuesday, rose about 3 points, then lost half its gain. Youngstown Sheet and Tube tumbled 7 points in a small turnover.

TRAVEL BY SEA TO REACH PEAK

Week-end at Harbor Due for Heavy Traffic

Many Liners on Arrival and Departure List

Chamber Excursion to Hawaii Sailing Today

BY WAYNE R. CAVE

Summer travel by sea will reach its high peak this week-end when liners will depart or take on thousands of travelers on trips coastwise, intercoastal and foreign, many around the world.

Today, when the Virginia is from New York with 700; the City of Honolulu out for Hawaii with 350, and the Ruyter from South America with 200. Tomorrow the President Pierce will bring scores from the Orient, and Monday El Salvador follows with 140 from New York. Meanwhile coastal carriers are running nearly to capacity. The H. P. Alexander is carrying 350 northerners yesterday and sailing back last night with 80.

CHIEF IN INTEREST

Attention, however, centers on the City of Honolulu, which is carrying a party of 150 on the Los Angeles excursion to Hawaii. The ship gained several last-minute travelers yesterday when Hilo reported the volcano Kilauea erupting, shooting half a dozen fountains of flame 300 feet out of the giant Halemauahu bowl.

VIRGINIA LIST HEAVY

The Panama-Pacific liner Virginia has in her 700 passengers the largest list ever carried on the ship. Among those on the voyage are R. T. Gregory, Los Angeles banker; M. B. Newman, capitalist; Fred T. Bealy, Los Angeles County supervisor; Pennington Hinkley, Nevada state senator; and James Henderson, president of the Mito Chamber of Commerce.

TANKER MAKES PORT AFTER BATTLING GALE

The Texas Company's tanker steamer California, formerly the Helen Vimont, encountered a hurricane on route yesterday and returned yesterday to report "heavy weather damage."

The big blow struck her off the tip of Lower California, checked her speed to sixty-two miles a day for two days. Water poured down her ventilators, and communication between fore and after parts of the ship was only by the under-deck passage.

She survived the storm with only the possible loss of a few rivets, but the damage to the ship is being made good free preparatory to going on drydock here today for examination and repairs.

Storage of pipe on dock highways, reluctantly sanctioned temporarily by the Harbor Department, has begun at the pier to meet great oil needs, has been declared intolerable, and a conference seeking a remedy soon will be called by Harbor officials. Experience and three killers have been attributed to the congestion, and the fire department has protested the plight. It is possible that the pipe will be removed.

Several foreign countries as well as most of the States of the Union will be represented on the Lascio liner City of Los Angeles, which arrived from Central and South America on October 5 to December 5 this year.

Reservations long have been in from parties in Germany, England, Canada and the United States. Inquiries came from India and Java. More than half of the accommodations, numbering in excess of 200, have been put up on part of the remaining space. There still remains a fair selection of state-rooms in various price grades, according to Lascio officials.

Mexico Whaling Company, a Norwegian concern, has called back its fleet and apparently will forsake the waters of Lower California permanently. Its factory ship, Esperanza, and three killers have been set off for Norway, possibly to whet out South America next year. The killer Colombia has been left at Long Beach and may be disposed of here. The fleet has been here four years, and the first three summers had profitable seasons. During the spring just closed, however, the fleet was sold.

Youths Escape Prison Terms
 FRESNO, July 26.—Pleading guilty to holding up robbers at the point of a revolver and stealing liquor from them, Truman Finson and Joe J. Seale, Mendocino youths, escaped long terms in the penitentiary today when Judge Charles R. Barnard granted them probation if they serve the first year of a five-year term in the County Jail.

They were charged with burglary. Adverse recommendation on the probation plea was made by the prosecution officer. Judge Barnard said Finson was 19 and married, and that the probation terms were extended so that the youths could rehabilitate themselves.

REPORT OF THEATER
 DEAL STRENGTHENED
 FRESNO, July 26.—Notice to employees that their services will not be needed after two weeks were served on employees of the Pantages Theater here today, lending support to reports that the Radio-Kath-Orpheum interests were negotiating for the local house after acquiring several theaters in the Pantages chain. Previous reports were that the local house was not included in the deal. The notice was served on the employees after Manager Leo Osterline held a telephone conversation with Alexander Pantages in Los Angeles.

HYDROPLANE HARBOR FOR ALAMEDA ASKED
 ALAMEDA, July 26. (Exclusive) Alameda Airport, Inc. terminal for several commercial airlines, has asked the War Department, it was learned today, for permission to build a yacht harbor and shelter cove for hydroplanes in San Francisco Bay south of Alameda pier. The hydroplane accommodations are understood to be for transbay service and flights to California's mountain lakes.

JURY ACCUSES AZUSA DOCTOR

Murder Indictment Voted in Woman's Death

Pasadena Graft Charges Query Resumed

Overcharge for Work on Sewers Asserted

An indictment accusing Dr. C. E. Darrow, Azusa physician, of the murder of Mrs. Jennie Peterson, 28 years of age, of 818 South Street, Los Angeles, through an asserted illegal operation, was returned by the county grand jury at the close of its session yesterday.

It is charged that Mrs. Peterson was taken to the physician's home at 187 East Frohman Boulevard, Azusa, a week ago today by Harry Smith, 20, of 4625 Main street. After the operation was performed, the woman was kept at the doctor's office until Tuesday last, when she died, according to investigation officers.

After voting the indictment against Dr. Darrow, the grand jury resumed its investigation of asserted graft in the payment of unwarrented sums to paving and sewer contractors in Pasadena.

R. V. O'Brien, City Manager of Pasadena, spent two hours on the witness stand and still was testifying at the close of the session.

According to John Burwell, investigator for Dist. Atty. Fitts, in some instances contractors collected money from the city of Pasadena for grading which never was installed beneath 1400 feet of outfall sewer and in another case overcharges were made for extra on the construction of two culverts.

The investigation will be resumed on Tuesday next, when other witnesses will be called, according to Percy Hammond, deputy district attorney, in charge of grand jury matters.

The lots were donated to the city by Carlin G. Smith, realty dealer, and the playground will be named Carlin G. Smith Playground.

The offer of the lots to the commission was the first response, it is understood, to its invitation to real estate men to set aside part of every new subdivision for a public playground to be administered by the commission.

SEIBERT GIVEN FRAUD HEARING

Doctor in Bankruptcy Case Put Under Bond

Transfer of Auto Previous to Oath Charged

Accused Says Transaction Was Bona-Fide Sale

Dr. William P. Seibert, physiotherapist of 1611 Huntington Drive, South Pasadena, yesterday was arraigned before United States Commissioner Head on a charge of making a false oath in bankruptcy proceedings and his bond set at $5000.

Seibert was accused in a complaint issued the previous day at the instance of Acting United States Attorney Peterson, who stated the asserted act of the doctor was brought to his attention by another physician, Dr. H. J. Strathburn. Seibert is alleged to have transferred an automobile owned by him to Miss Emma Diener, a Swiss, a short while prior to bankruptcy proceedings in March, 1937. The car later was returned to him, it is charged.

Miss Diener, now employed by Dr. Strathburn, was at the time of the asserted transfer living with the Seibert family, according to Peterson. She now is in the United States on an extended leave, having been ordered deported for overstaying the time allowed her in her passport, according to Peterson.

Seibert announced his intention of taking the Seibert matter before the Federal grand jury.

Following his arrest yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Mangera, Seibert declared he is innocent of the charge and that the transaction with Miss Diener, who he said is a cousin of his wife, was in effect a sale of his equity in the automobile, not legally owned by him. The sale resulted from financial difficulties he was undergoing at that time and he was asked by Miss Diener to repurchase the automobile some time later and did so, he said.

In searching for Miss Diener, immigration authorities learned from Mrs. Seibert the address of her cousin, Seibert said. Seibert asserts his difficulty is the outgrowth of this.

It was while Meadows was in Washington that he broached the proposition of a reduction of sentence for Osborne to the then President Coolidge, the witness said.

"He said the President was touched by his efforts, and promised to reduce the sentence from ten to two years," said the witness.

The State is attempting to prove that Meadows did not undertake his proposed plan to obtain a constitution for young Osborne in good faith and made his asserted representations to Osborne's father merely to obtain sums of money from the latter.

Cantwell Honored at Home of Lucien M. Brunsow; Artist Among Unveiling Guests

As an expression of esteem and of recognition for his services in the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, Bishop J. J. Cantwell yesterday was honored by Mr. and Mrs. Lucien M. Brunsow with the gift of a life-sized portrait of Pope Pius XI, presented to the bishop in the Brunsow home, 3328 West Adams street, before a gathering of about fifty friends.

In giving the painting Mr. Brunsow said it is a testimonial of the esteem in which Bishop Cantwell is held by Mrs. Brunsow and himself, and an expression of their regard for his admirable direction of the diocese.

Miss Margaret Brunsow unveiled the portrait and Bishop Cantwell accepted the gift with a few brief words of appreciation.

The picture was painted in Rome by Baron de Passigny, a Hungarian artist, who with the Baroness was present at yesterday's function. He has done portraits of notable persons throughout the world and Baroness de Passigny has sung in concert and opera in most of the capitals of Europe. Just before the unveiling the Baroness sang "Ave Maria."

Among the guests at the unveiling and at tea, which was served in the garden following, were: Father Sullivan, Monsignor Cantwell, vicar-general of the diocese; Donald Wright, Mr. and Mrs. John Mott, Joseph Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Inder Dockweiler, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Moore, and Henri Didot, the French Consul.
